

CLASS - II ENGLISH NOTES NOVEMBER

10. The Elephants and the Mice

I. Write the Synonyms:

1. trampled - crushed
2. grateful - showing thanks

II. Write the Antonyms:

1. kind x cruel
2. mighty x tiny

III. Frame the sentence:

1. trampled - The crowd trampled the grass in the stadium.
2. chief - John is the chief cook in our family.

IV. ERC:

1. "A herd of elephants came to the lake to drink water."
 - a) Name the lesson.
The name of the lesson is "The Elephants and the Mice."
 - b) Who came to the lake to drink water?
The elephants came to the lake to drink water.

V. Answer the following:

1. Why did the king of mice decide to meet the chief of the elephants?

The king of the mice decided to meet the chief of the elephants because when the elephants came to the lake to drink water many mice would get trampled underneath their feet.

2. How did the chief of the elephants promise to help?

The chief of the elephants promised to help by using another route to reach the lake.

3. Why did the chief of elephants laugh?

The chief of the elephants laughed because he thought a mouse to be too small to help an elephant.

4. How did the mice help the elephants?

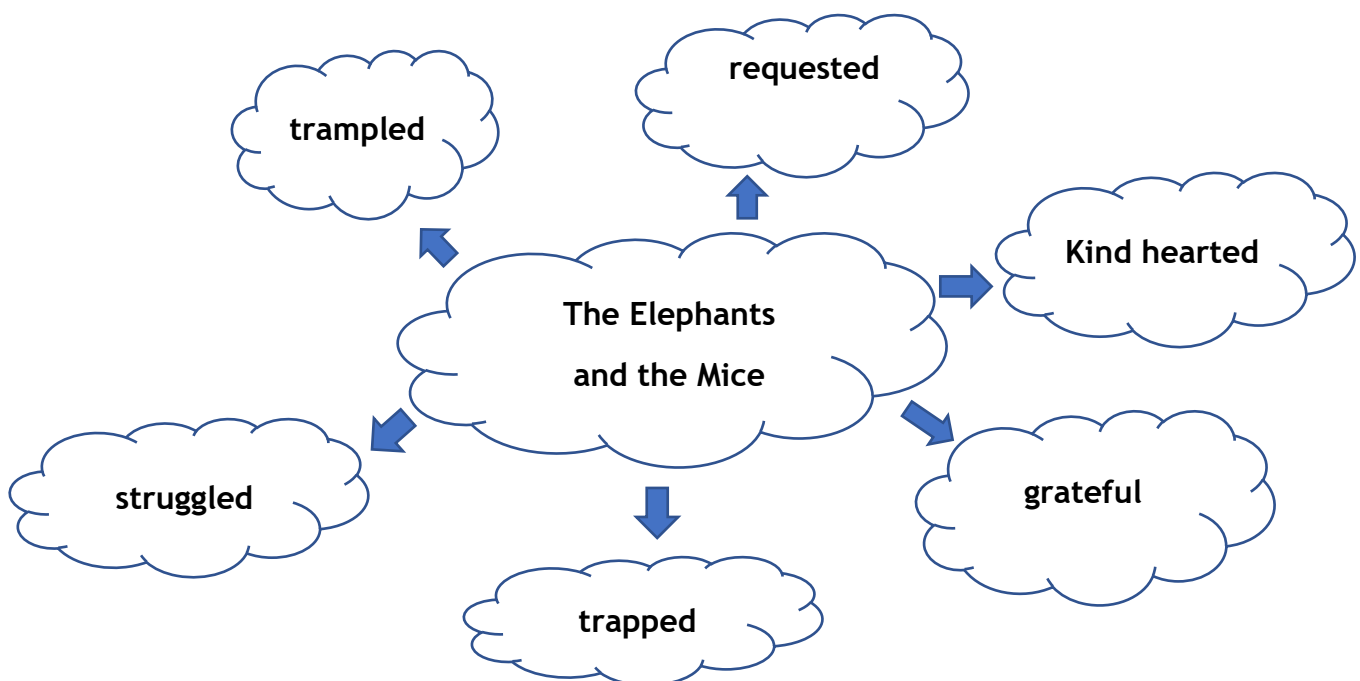

When the elephants were trapped in nets, the mice helped by nibbling the nets away and freeing the elephants.

VI. Illustration:

“The elephants got trapped in strong nets.”

VII. Mind map:

11. Tails

I. Write the Synonyms:

1. quail - a small bird with a short tail
2. sixpence - a small silver - coloured coin

II. Write the Antonyms:

1. buy x sell
2. fine x deficient

III. Write the rhyming words:

1. quail - tail, snail
2. round - pound, bound

IV. ERC.

1. "If I had sixpence
I would buy one."

(a) Name the poem.

The name of the poem is "Tails".

(b) Name the poet.

The name of the poet is A.A. Milne.

V. Answer the following:

1. Who wishes for a tail?

The boy wishes for a tail.

2. What would narrator buy if he had sixpence?

The narrator would buy a tail if he had sixpence.

VI. Illustration:

“A lion has a tail and a very fine tail”.

VII. Mind map:

